

TIME PASSAGES

ANDY WARHOL:

They say that time changes things, but you actually have to change them yourself.

ANNIE DILLARD:

How we spend our days is, of course, how we spend our lives.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN:

Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that the stuff life is made of.

BRIAN TRACY:

There is never enough time to do everything, but there is always enough time to do the most important thing.

ECCLESIASTES:

For everything there is a season,
And a time for every matter under heaven:
A time to be born, and a time to die;
A time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted;
A time to kill, and a time to heal;
A time to break down, and a time to build up;
A time to weep, and a time to laugh;
A time to mourn, and a time to dance;
A time to throw away stones, and a time to gather stones together;
A time to embrace, And a time to refrain from embracing;
A time to seek, and a time to lose;
A time to keep, and a time to throw away;
A time to tear, and a time to sew;
A time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
A time to love, and a time to hate,
A time for war, and a time for peace.

Ecclesiastes 3:1-8

C. S. LEWIS:

The future is something which everyone reaches at the rate of sixty minutes an hour, whatever he does, whoever he is.

DOUGLAS ADAMS:

Time is an illusion. Lunchtime doubly so.

CAPTAIN JEAN-LUC PICARD:

Time is a companion that goes with us on a journey. It reminds us to cherish each moment, because it will never come again. What we leave behind is not as important as how we have lived.

- played by Patrick Stewart, from the film "Star Trek: Generations"

WILL ROGERS:

Half our life is spent trying to find something to do with the time we have rushed through life trying to save.
